The photo featured here shows one of our growing areas at our new location. Within this space we are capable of growing many varieties of plants that are sold to our retail, landscape and hotel customers. This particular growing field is only a portion of a much larger area where other types and sizes of plants are grown.